Club update: Amateur Winemakers of Nebraska June 25, 2015:

The AWONE entered the Winemakers Magazine Wine Contest last March and the results just came back (see judges scores attached below). The Frontenac Club wine that was made at Cris Payton's home did not win a medal but the scores were not that bad, but actually good. The contest is held in VT with experienced and knowledgeable judges. We can be proud!! For the August meeting and this year's club wine I suggest we have teams of members make Frontenac wine in 5 gallon batches as we have done before with the mead and Brianna. I have about 20 vines that are very full of grapes that I can donate to the contest. Better ideas are welcome.

2: We were not able to get a bus for the spring wine tour this year so we are going to plan a Fall tour hopefully on Saturday October 17 likely visiting wineries in Lincoln (Deer Springs, starting and ending point), Brainard (Macavicka), Central City)Prairie Creek) and St. Paul (Melitta Vista). LET ME KNOW WHAT YOU THINK.

3: Our next meeting will be at Randy and Roma Amundsen's home at 7101 S.134th St., Walton NE at 6 PM on July 25 for a pot luck dinner followed by a wine makers question/answer game with prizes for the male and female winners. Study up. The August meeting will be to pick the Frontenac, crush and de stem and make a mash to distribute to the teams to make wine. September will bring the Summer Picnic at the Peytons and the December Christmas party will be at Chuck and Rhonda's new home (7615 Erin Ct., Lincoln).
